How To Get Back Your Sex Life From The Comfort Of Your Home

When you're in the mood and the time's right, the last thing you want to happen is...nothing. Unfortunately, many men struggle with performance problems that prevent them (and their partners) from enjoying intimacy to the fullest.

From a lack of interest to difficulty "keeping it up," sexual difficulties can take their toll on your self-confidence and your relationship. But you don't have to settle for a less-than-satisfying sex life. The Phoenix is an innovative at-home treatment you can use to enjoy intimacy again.

IN THIS GUIDE, WE'LL EXPLORE THE MOST COMMON TYPES OF SEXUAL DYSFUNCTION, HOW THE PHOENIX WORKS, AND WHY MEN ACROSS THE COUNTRY ARE USING IT TO TAKE BACK THEIR SEX LIVES.

The Top 3 Conditions That Can Keep You From Having A Good Time

Erectile Dysfunction

Erectile dysfunction (ED) happens when a man experiences difficulty getting and keeping an erection. This can be embarrassing, but it's more common than you might think. It's been reported that more than 50% of men between the ages of 40 and 70 experience some form of ED.

ED can be caused by stress, anxiety, or depression. Certain lifestyle choices, like tobacco use and heavy drinking, can increase your risk of ED. It can also be caused by underlying health problems, including:

- Heart disease
- Clogged blood vessels
- High cholesterol or blood pressure
- Diabetes
- Obesity
- Parkinson's disease
- Multiple sclerosis
- Sleep disorders
- Hormonal imbalances

Peyronie's Disease

If you've taken a few hard hits to your crown jewels, you may be at risk for Peyronie's disease. Peyronie's disease is a disorder in which plaques of scar tissue forms under the skin of the penis. This plaque builds up inside the part of the penis that keeps it stiff during an erection.

The most common signs and symptoms of Peyronie's include:

- Scar tissue. You can feel the scar tissue under the skin of the penis as flat lumps or a band of hard tissue.
- A significant bend. Your penis might curve upward or downward or bend to one side.
- Erection problems. ED can be a telling sign of Peyronie's disease and is often one of the first warning signs.
- Shortening of the penis. The scar tissue development can actually cause your penis to shorten.
- Pain. You might experience pain in your groin, with or without an erection.
- Other penile deformity. In some men with Peyronie's disease, narrowing, indentations or even an hourglass-like appearance can occur.

The Top 3 Conditions That Can Keep You From Having A Good Time

Loss Of Libido

Your libido, or sex drive, naturally decreases at your age. In fact, a 2019 study of more than 12,000 45-year-old men found that about 1 in 20 reported a significantly lower sex drive than before.

Your libido is strongly linked with your physical health, genes, and hormones like testosterone. But psychological factors can affect it as well. Stress, anxiety, and previous ED events can cause you to lose your interest in intimacy.

While libido changes are natural, they aren't something you should settle for. A regular sex life can be important both for your physical and mental health and also for the health of your relationship with your partner.

What's The Phoenix & How Does It Work?

Men have been using oral prescription drugs (like Viagra and Cialis) to boost their performance ever since the 90s. Unfortunately, studies have found these drugs don't work for everyone. In some cases, they can even lead to frustrating side effects such as dizziness, headaches, and indigestion.

The Phoenix is different. This handheld device uses clinical-grade powerful soundwaves known as low-intensity wave therapy to restore your sex life naturally. Low-intensity wave therapy is a non-surgical non-invasive treatment that increases blood flow, improves blood vessel health, and breaks down microplaque in the penis. This not only helps you keep it up, but it also boosts your libido and reduces symptoms of Peyronie's disease.

PulseWave treatments have provided this technology at doctors' offices and wellness clinics for years. To see lasting results from PulseWave, you'll need to visit a professional between 6 to 12 times on average, depending on your condition. A specialist will also apply the treatment on your penis for about 20 minutes

Now, the Phoenix gives men the chance to benefit from low-intensity treatments from the comfort of their own homes. Unlike PulseWave or other in-office treatments, PulseWave is a device you can apply yourself at your own schedule.
